1960 WCARC Camp Doubles Enrollment

Camp Cornplanter -- a camp for retarded children.

Last year the Warren County Association for Retarded Children secured a lease from the U. S. Forest Service to operate Camp Cornplanter, a secluded camp site located in the heart of the Allegheny National Forest about six miles from Kinzua.

After a concerted effort the WCARC was ready to offer a summer camping program for retarded children in northwestern Pennsylvania. The total enrollment that initial year was 128. This year that enrollment has better than doubled. It will reach the figure 281. And, amazing as it seems, these retarded people range in age from eight years to 45 years.

Four weeks of camping -- July 24 through August 21 -- are being offered this season by a professional staff which numbers 33. The ratio for each period averages one staff member for every four campers.

The retarded from 13 counties in the tri-state area utilize the camping program. They come from Allegheny, Butler, Crawford, Erie, Venango, Lawrence, McKean, Mercer, and Warren counties in Pennsylvania; from Chautauqua, Erie, and Niagara counties in New York State; and Trumbull in Ohio.

Inside this issue you will find three pages of pictures showing some of the types of activities conducted at the camp. You will also see the playground equipment which has been donated by the Warren Kiwanis Club and Bell Telephone Company which adds so much to the area.

Credit also must go to the Jaycee Auxiliary, Zonta Club, United Commercial Travelers, Child Development Study Club and the Russell Volunteer Fire Dept. Auxiliary for the campships they provided for campers who might otherwise not have been able to afford this opportunity. The proceeds from a Beech Dance Recital Benefit were also used for campships.

During the final week at the camp, which starts August 14, 100 retarded people from Polk State School, through sponsorship from an endowment fund, will be at Camp Cornplanter. There will be 66 boys and 34 girls from the ages of 16 to 45 years, mostly in the 35-45 age range. Many are working patients at Polk who received no pay for the work they do. This is the first time they will participate in such a program.

It has been explained that these people being older do not receive many visitors, if any. They are being

MORE TIRE AND WHEEL THEFTS IN AREA

The rash of tires and wheel theft in the area continues, the latest complaint registered by Mrs. Grace Conquer, R. D. 1, Sheffield. Mrs. Conquer reported to the Sheriff's office that a blackwall 7.60 by 15 tire and a 15 inch wheel were taken from a 1948 Chrysler that was parked in her garage across the street from her home in Barnes sometime Tuesday night. The trunk of the car was forced open, probably with a bar, and the wheel and tire removed.

Steve Hoden of the Sheffield township police and the county Sheriff's office are making investigation of the case.

AREA VISITOR INJURED IN ONE-CAR ACCIDENT

Clara Patricia Maury, 17, of Muncy, Pennsylvania, was injured in a one-car accident which occurred Tuesday at 8:10 a. m. on Deer Creek Hollow road, four miles north of Youngsville. Miss Maury was a passenger in the car, which was being operated by David Hugh Albright, 16, of 310 E. Main st., Youngsville. Two other passengers in the vehicle were not injured. State police report that the girl's injuries were "not serious".

Albright, who had just received his learner's permit last month, was proceeding toward the Matthews Run road at a rate of speed between 35 and 40 miles per hour when his car went out of control on the gravel road. Damages to the vehicle were estimated at $600.

Semi Operator Killed As Outfit Jackknifes

Donald G. Lauffenberger, of 332 E. Fifth st., Warren, was killed instantly Wednesday evening when the tractor-trailer outfit which he was operating for the Pittsburgh-Des Moines steel firm went out of control and jackknifed on Route 6 east of Port Allegany, pinning him underneath the wreckage. The 35-year-old man was delivering a load of steel products when the mishap occurred at 5:40 p.m., about five miles east of the McKean county city in Liberty township.

According to the report issued by the Kane State Police, Lauffenberger was travelling east on Route 6 when the load shifted on the trailer, spinning the tractor around. The vehicle went out of control, left the road, and rolled over.

The Warren man died of a crushed chest, a fractured skull, and multiple internal injuries. Identification of the body was delayed for sometime after the accident, but when Pittsburgh-Des Moines was contacted and furnished the number of the truck, the man's identity was learned.

automobiles were ordered, and two warrants were served. In addition twenty-two criminal complaints were investigated by the barrack's force, which is now under the supervision of Corporal Jack B. Krupey.

BAKERY TRUCK STRUCK

An Anderson's Bakery truck, which was parked on Conewango ave. near Fifth st., was struck Wednesday at 5:15 p. m. by an auto driven by Robert Earl Dodge, 16, of 8 New st., Warren. Damage to the car was estimated at $90, but damages to the truck were not available for publication.

Dodge was proceeding south on Conewango, and when he applied his brakes to slow down to make a right turn onto Fifth st., his auto skidded into the side of the truck.

BIDS ON BOILER OPENED

Thursday morning the Warren County Board of Commissioners opened bids from three firms for the purchase and installation of a boiler for the Rouse Home in Youngsville. The decision on which one of the three will receive the contract has been postponed until Monday afternoon at 2 p.m.

Low bidder for the job was Jack's Plumbing and Heating of Warren, the price being $2,089. Webster Plumbing and Heating of R.D. 2, Russell offered a bid of $2,231, and the Sans Corp. of Jamestown, $2,211.

After the opening of the bids, discussion followed between representatives of the firms and the Commissioners on the feasibility of the installation of a water pump with the boiler, but no action was taken.

HISTORICAL TOUR

The Warren County Historical Society announces an interesting tour set for Sunday, August 14. Cars are to meet at the cemetery on the Indian Grant where Merle Dearborff, well-known Indian authority, will speak on the Cornplanters and will answer questions. The program starts at 2 o'clock and all are requested to be on time.

The best way to reach the spot is to go to Scandia and beyond, and turn right down the road past the Scout camp into the Indian Grant.

DRIVING RAIN CAUSE OF WEDNESDAY AUTO MISHAP

A car operated by Lester A. Blair, 58, of 311 East st., Warren, struck a utility pole on Third st. between the New Process Co. and the Keystone station Wednesday evening at 10:30 p. m. The car was damaged to the extent of $500. Blair was traveling east on Third ave., and the driving rain forced him to lose control of his auto, which veered to the right and hit the pole.

OBSERVATIONS

By Bob Walsh

WHO IS TO BLAME?

In the weeks immediately ahead we will hear debated and see analyzed the major issues that face this nation as our two major parties tooth and nail it to election day. The Eisenhower administration will be blamed for the obvious losses we have suffered in the past seven years and the Democrats will be blamed for these losses on the basis of administrative records which preceded those years.

The debate will be about that simple, but the truth and solution are not to be found in these few years. What has happened in these times is the culmination of many decades of failure, and what we see today is little more than a deep-seated disease not being very well treated by hastily-prepared last-minute formulas.

It is the Church that has failed.

If those who call themselves Christians had done the bidding of Him from whom they take their name, the Russians would not be communists, life would not be cheap in China, and the Africans would not be chasing missionaries off their continent. The Church has not performed the missionary task assigned it.

In Warren county there are many churches, and many of them are extremely elaborate. The church-building boom has been with us in America for several years. And this is not to be criticized if it does not end there, but unfortunately while congregations have poured millions into edifices they have not matched it with millions for missionaries.

We were impressed by the story about a young man who recently was approached by a member of his congregation in search of funds. When he learned that the money was to be used for more building, he asked if the budget for foreign missions was also being enlarged and whether or not it matched the amount being spent on the facilities for the congregation.

When the negative answer was given he said, "When you do something about our missionary work to the same extent as you are providing for our own comforts I will give."

Unfortunately many will readily agree with this, but only as an out. Their real reason will be that they do not want to give at all, and as is true in the case of taxes, we like what they get us but we don't want to pay the bill.

CURRENT FALL GUYS

Politically you can blame the current administration for the obvious losses we have suffered recently on all global fronts. We have seen the Chinese plunder their neighbors and have done nothing. We have seen them violate Indian borders and have not stopped them. We have seen the Russians kick the Hungarians and others around and have sat on our hands.

We have had our vice president insulted in South America, and a major island immediately off our coast is making eyes at communism. We have done little to stop this trend, and of course it has not eased. We talk of our strength but the communists keep right on moving ahead, defying us to stop them and obviously unafraid of us.

This is an easy argument and you can lay it out there for all plainly to see. And it probably is right. But behind it are other years, hundreds of years. And through those centuries we have not convinced the world's peoples that the way to peace is not by the sword.

THE GOOD YEARS

This has not been always true. In the early centuries the progress made by a small group of believers was a miracle of sacrifice and courage. Nation after nation became dominated by the faithful and war has gradually been reduced in popularity. The freedom of man has grown.

But too many of us who have gained true freedom have been too selfish with it and have chosen to live the good life, a life which we flaunt before others, and even utilize as a tool with which to use millions of underprivileged in backward lands for the fattening of our already affluent calf. For every half-equipped missionary we send forth we also allow a merchant prince to invade the same land and take away the wealth to the benefit of the already well-heeled ruler and to the loss of the ones the missionary is supposed to convert. It must be a confusing contrast.

Our missionaries are pitifully financed. We seem to believe that it is enough if we keep them alive so that they can do no more than convert natives. Would it not be far more convincing if we were at the same time to improve the living conditions of those people, provide them with basic machinery with which to raise their food, educate them, and lend meaning to their conversion through our own example.

TO WHAT END, PIONEERS?

We are proud of our own pioneers. We point to their struggle for existence and their willingness to sacrifice for the sake of freedom. But to what end? Their own benefit!

It is not enough to be intelligent, to be brave, to be willing to risk your life, if the end you seek is no more than your own welfare. That may carve out a plot of land and build a nation, but if that nation stops there, and in its relations with the millions who are not so richly situated does no more than exploit their labors while preaching to their ignorant minds, what have we gained?

SO WHO?

This brings us right back, of course, to the man to blame. It is not the Church as a whole, nor any congregation, nor any denomination. It is up to the individual to express his beliefs, and to give his money. And any Church which says it has enough money to help carry out this assignment is wrong. Any Church which says it has enough good missionaries is mistaken.

There neither is enough money nor enough dedicated men and women to correctly use it.

It is an assignment, you know. "Go ye into all the world, and preach the gospel to every creature."

Have we?

Matter of Fact . . .

"REPUDIATION"

By Joseph Alsop

WASHINGTON

Vice President Nixon's public abandonment of the policies of Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson, which were also President Eisenhower's policies, just about completes a job that had to be done.

The Vice President has thought that Benson ought to be junked since 1956. After the disastrous 1958 Congressional election, he made an active effort to junk him. The former chairman of the Republican National Committee, Meade Alcorn of Connecticut, was the man chosen for the job.

Since it was clear that the President would not listen to the straight policy arguments against Benson, Alcorn, on Nixon's advice, made the political arguments. These had been only too amply underlined by the election returns. Yet the President's angry answering blast all but blew Alcorn through the door, into the next room; and after that, the subject of Benson was not raised again.

It is a proof of the Byzantinism of the Eisenhower White House that the subject was never again raised. The hapless Benson has managed to combine a more than fourfold increase of the huge Agriculture Department appropriations with an actual decline of farm income. This year, the $6 billion-odd that will be spent through Benson amounts to something like half of the reduced revenues of the American farm community.

This incredible record is defended by Benson on the ground that Congress would never enact "The Benson Program." But in fact neither Benson himself, nor his chief, the President, has ever, at any time, launched an all-out, knock-down, drag-out fight for decisive legislative changes in the farm program.

Prayer has been the Benson specialty, and latterly he has become a sort of Ancient Mariner of Washington, almost literally "stopping one in ten" to assure these reluctant listeners that his farm policy was working better and better. Once he even cornered Sen. John F. Kennedy's personal chief of staff, Theodore Sorenson, in the Senate cafeteria.

Since sentimentality has no place in government, the fact that his failures have made the Secretary of Agriculture a somewhat pathetic figure has no bearing on the case. There was a touch of ruthlessness in the way the Vice President, free to junk Benson at last, duly and publicly did what he had wanted to do for so long. But in the circumstances, ruthlessness was justified and even called for.

As already noted, moreover, this junking of Benson was not an isolated episode. Since Friday, July 22, the Vice President has been briskly disentangling himself from the President.

The pace of this process was forced, and it was therefore given an undesired dramatic character, by Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller's threat to make a floor fight about the platform at the Republican convention. Civil rights and defense, the two main issues on which Rockefeller and Nixon thereupon reached agreement on July 22, were again issues on which the Vice President has never agreed with the President.

Rockefeller did not have the votes to make a respectable showing in a floor fight. The Vice President would have much preferred the less drastic method of distinguishing his own positions from the President's positions after the convention was out of the way. But Rockefeller, by threatening a floor fight, forced Nixon to say what he had always meant to say rather earlier than he had meant to say it.

The Democrats will of course cry out that this is "repudiation" of Eisenhower, and in a sense they will be right. Because of the constitutional changes already examined in this space, a modern Vice President cannot imitate Vice President John N. Garner, for instance, who took rather well-marked independent positions while maintaining friendly working relations with President Roosevelt. A modern Vice President is like a Cabinet officer, who must either go along or get out—the thing to be got out of, in the Vice President's case, being the National Security Council.

Accordingly, Nixon has swallowed his objections and gone along. But objections there have been. He has always believed in a stronger defense program, more forceful civil rights program, a changed farm program, a somewhat less conservative domestic economic policy. About Eisenhower, he was once heard to remark wonderingly:

"In domestic matters, you know, he's really more conservative than Bob Taft."

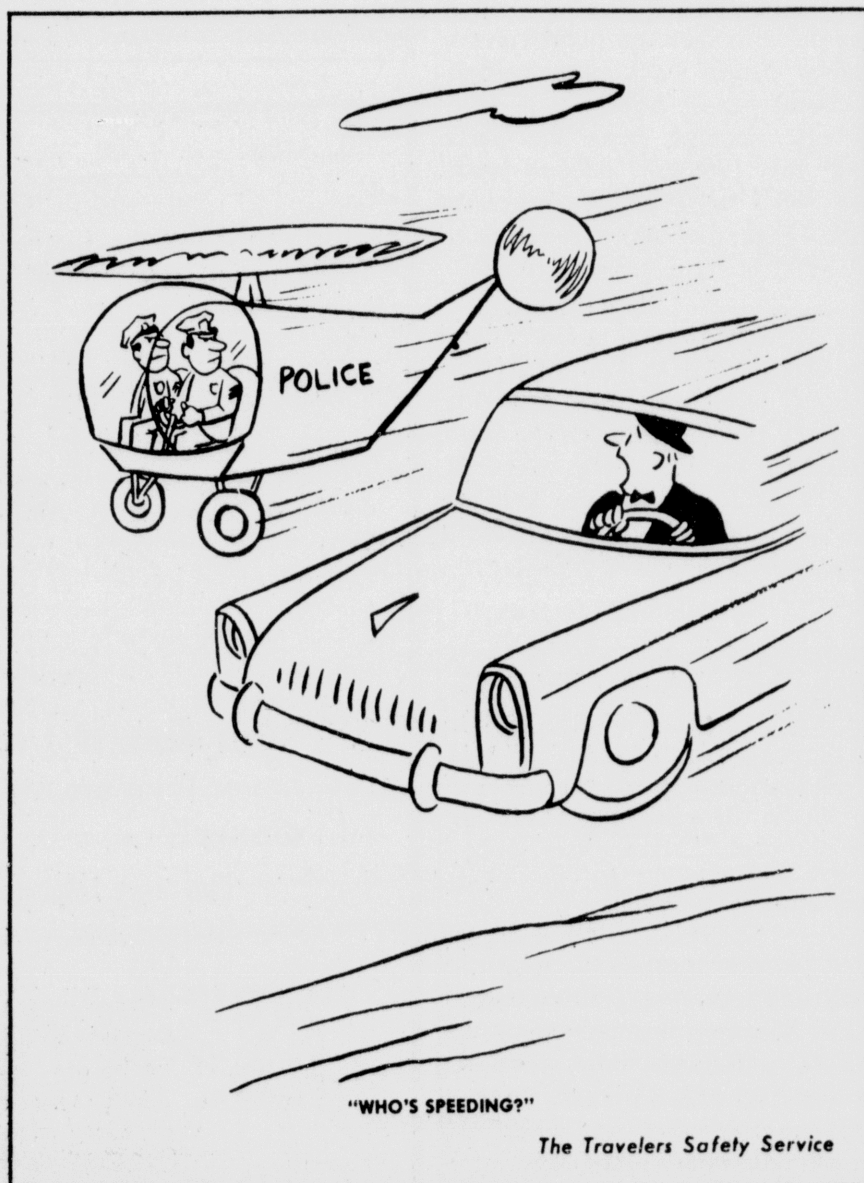

If the Vice President's own views now emerge, and the opposition cries "Repudiation," it does not matter very much. As his party's nominee, Nixon not only has the right to speak his own mind, as Eisenhower recognized in his telegram of congratulation at Chicago; he also has the duty to do so.

SEWAGE CHECK-UP

Now that we have spent well over a million dollars for the sole purpose of keeping Warren's raw sewage out of the Allegheny river and the Conewango creek, the mopping up stage is in order. There is little use in paying this kind of money for such a service if a few homes are allowed to violate the law, and it requires only one mouthful of sewage to make a very sick man.

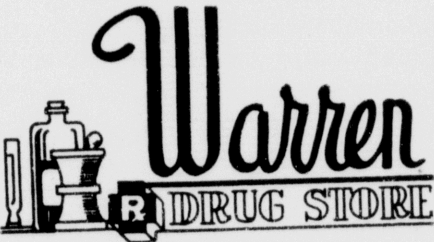

Not only is a check-up of Warren homes and streets in order, but if might pay the state to have a look at the neighbors. Inasmuch as the enforcement of the law has pushed our hands into our change purse for a tidy bit more than a cool million it seems appropriate that the state now do something about cottages, homes, and perhaps plants which still may be contaminating the stream, and some of which may even be immediately above us, thus defeating our efforts.

Taking it a step further, the same goes for other communities which are not meeting the requirements of the law, and to groups of homes and cottages which conceivably could team up in a sewage control effort.

Many towns have objected, and some still are, to expending money for sewage plants when nearby cottages and homes continue to dirty the stream. We have suggested that if they will do their part the state can pin-point the individual violators who are left.

That time for pin-pointing now is with us and we believe the state is not doing its job. Perhaps we who have abided by the law now should file our complaints in regards to specific cases which are undoing our stream-cleaning and law-abiding project.

These summer weeks are the ripe moment for checking sewage flow. The stream is so low that sewers are quite obvious and we can show you a couple if you insist.

ANOTHER CHECK-UP NEEDED

Another case of inconsideration for those who attempt to operate according to the law is the liquor licensee who constantly sells to minors. We have them in Warren county, but the neighbors, and competitors, hesitate to make trouble.

This is one of those situations in which parents would be vitally interested. Proof should be obtained and state officials notified. The honest innkeeper is entitled to a spiking of the rumors, and the unprincipled should be uncovered and penalized.

from the state for this purpose. In the last two years the Pennsylvania Industrial Development Authority has made 127 loans totalling $16,078,303 for the new plants and plant expansions, the total cost of which has been $51,062,464. Warren county school districts have received the report of the State Tax Equalization Board's annual certification listing, which shows the market value placed on the property within each district and thus determines how much help they will receive from the state during the 1961-62 school year. Those who believe the increases are too large may appeal for a hearing.

The valuations are higher than those established in the county for assessing purposes. The total for the county is $71,625,235. The total established by the state board is $109,419,300. Some people confuse these two, and blame local officials for the state's change of reimbursement fractions.

The biggest change was in Brokenstraw twp. where the market value was jumped $769,800, a per cent increase of 17.95. The biggest reduction was for Southwest twp. which dropped $153,300, or 16.18 per cent. Triumph twp. dropped $72,700, or 11.42 per cent.

Most areas increased, and the overall average was 1.80 per cent upward. Warren borough went up $934,500, or 2.05 per cent. Youngsville went up $33,400 which is less than one per cent, and Sheffield also stayed within less than one per cent of its former figure.

"APOLOGIZE" OR "REGRET": — THE FACTS

By Roscoe Drummond

WASHINGTON — The purpose of this column is to try to get at the exact facts as to what Sen. John F. Kennedy said or did not say about apologizing or expressing regret to Khrushchev over the U-2 flights.

And quite apart from whether Mr. Kennedy used this phrase or that, what is the substance of the controversy? What is it really all about?

It is well to assemble the evidence because the candidates are already in a maze of conflicting argument and it is obvious that this is going to be a disputed matter in a hotly contested campaign.

To make any sense out of this controversy, it is necessary to fix in mind the demand which Khrushchev made upon the U. S. at Paris. He demanded that the President apologize for ever permitting any of the U-2 flights and that the fliers be punished.

This blew the summit to pieces before it ever began. But there were some here at home who wondered if Mr. Eisenhower could not have pacified Mr. K. in some way so that the meeting could have gone on. Mr. Kennedy was one of these and he made this statement to a group of high school students in Oregon in May:

"He (Khrushchev) said there were two conditions for continuing. One, that we apologize. I think that that might have been possible to do; and that, second, we try those responsible for the flight."

***

Does this statement make it fair to contend that Sen. Kennedy wanted Mr. Eisenhower to apologize for the flights?

Vice President Nixon and, before he became Mr. Kennedy's running mate, Sen. Lyndon Johnson thought that it did. Mr. Johnson asked many of his pre-convention audiences if they wanted to have a President "who would apologize to Khrushchev?"

But Mr. Kennedy calls this an unfair description of his view. He put it this way in an exchange with other Senators on the Senate floor last May 23:

"What I said was that if Mr. Khrushchev had proposed the first condition alone--the apology--...if he had merely asked that the United States express regret (instead of demanding punishment for the fliers) that might have been a reasonable term, and would have indicated a willingness on his part to proceed."

After looking at all the evidence, I offer these conclusions: 1--Mr. Kennedy is, in part, the victim of his own imprecise statements. He said that if Khrushchev had asked only for an apology, "that that might have been possible to do." That certainly sounded as though he were recommending an apology. But later he said that he meant that since Mr. K. also imposed the punishment condition, nothing would have satisfied Khrushchev, not even an apology. Thus Mr. Kennedy could argue that he never brought forward the idea of apology as a practical course of action.

There is another point at which Mr. Kennedy's discussion of this matter--the day after Nixon and Dewey brought it up at the Chicago convention--seemed to me to flow around but not come to grips with the real issue.

Thus at his Hyannis Port press conference the Democratic nominee emphasized that he had thought it would have been well for the President to have "expressed his regrets" to Khrushchev over the TIMING of the U-2 flights. But the fact is, as all who were at the summit well know, the Soviet Premier was not demanding "regrets," just over the timing of the flights; he was demanding an apology from the President for having permitted the whole four-year sequence of the U-2 flights. The suggested "regrets" over the timing would have meant absolutely nothing in light of what was really happening at Paris.

Some partisans have suggested that Sen. Kennedy has herein shown signs of appeasement. There is no substance or truth in such statements. At most they show that Mr. Kennedy needs to think through a little more fully what he wants to say.

JAZZ TITANS

If you want to be a hep hipster on both the major figures of modern jazz and the language you are supposed to speak, "The Jazz Titans" should appeal to you. This paperback costs only $1.50 and will be distributed August 19 by Doubleday.

It contains a brief biographical sketch of many of those who have been leaders in jazz circles, from Count Basie to Jimmy Blanton, Gigi Gryce, Dizzy Gillespie and other cool cats. Each biography also includes a list of articles about the personality and names of his records.

In the back of the book is a chapter on the parlance of hip talk. It explains this language of about three hundred words by stating that the jazz cats need strong language to express their emotions, and the words are constantly changing because once one has become too popular it loses its strength.

Such words as "cool" also have many meanings. "Cool" can mean stopping a fight, acquiescence, good financial condition, not playing to-night, snubbing, tapering off, good physical shape, and agreement.

The list ranges from moldy figs to frantic cats who are gassing the studs into a struggle with the heavy cream. And if you don't dig that, congratulations. You are cool and my man, but if you want to latch on, and no longer be a lame, for a buck-fifty you can be insane (which is hip talk for "Very good").

As far as we can see these boys haven't kicked up anything new. They just have pushed around some mighty common words into uncommon meanings, obviously because they are too lazy to study their native tongue and naver have learned to understand the true beauty of it.

As one young lady told us when we asked what she liked about jazz that so disarranged a good composition you completely lost the true meaning, it is intriguing to see how far they can get away from the beat and return to it in smooth fashion. Perhaps the hipsters who now are hubcaps will find their way back into the fold of pure quills who may not be the turkeys they think.

OUR WORLD IN MINIATURE

(The Newsletter of the Laubach Literacy Fund includes a short article by Henry Smith Leiper which offers intriguing thoughts. We reprint it here.)

If in imagination we compress the present population of the world, now over two and a half billion, into a group of a thousand persons living in a single town, the following is the picture of contrasts we would then vividly see.

Sixty persons would represent the U. S. population; all others would be represented by 940. The 60 Americans would have half the total income of the entire town; the 940 would share the other half.

Thirty-six of the Americans in the town would be Christian Church members; and 24 would not. In the town as a whole, about 300 would be Christians and 700 would not. At least 80 persons in the whole town would be believing Communists and 370 would be under Communist domination. Possibly 70 in the whole town would be Protestant Christians.

Three hundred and three persons in the whole town would be white; 697 would be non-white. The 60 Americans would have an average life expectancy of 70 years; all the other 940 would average under 40.

Literally most of the non-American people in the town would be poor, hungry, sick and ignorant. Almost half would not be able to read or write.

More than half would never have heard of Christ or what he stood for. But very soon more than half would be hearing about Karl Marx.

In view of these facts it is interesting to think that the average Christian American family would be spending $850 a year for defence in force, and less than $3.50 a year to share with the rest of the people in the town the knowledge of why there is any Christ-mas.

Spike Jones' Premiere on Ch. 4 Aug. 9

His city slicker garb a thing of the past, Spike Jones will, nevertheless, be just as unpredictable when The Spike Jones Show makes its debut on WBEN-TV and the CBS Television Network Tuesday, Aug. 9, at 8 PM. Joining Jones each week in the 30 minutes of music and humor on Ch. 4 will be his wife, singer Henry Graco, Bill Dana, the voice of Jose Jimenez, comedienne Joyce Jameson and comic Len Weinrib.

NEWLY REDORCORATED is the Fago Beauty Salon at 607 Pennsylvania ave., E. Miss Frances Fago, who has operated the establishment at that location for the past thirteen years, held an Open House for her customers on Monday of this week, employing the Briggs Piano and Organ firm and organist Gloria Thompson to provide music for the colorful affair.

The renovation included a completely new lighting system, the painted walls with their paneling, the installation of new furniture and a new dryer, the addition of a colorful waterfall in the window, a new shampoo bowl, among many other additions to make the beauty salon one of the most modern and well-equipped places of its type in Warren.

HALF-WAY MARK PASSED IN PROBATION ASSOCIATION DRIVE

The half way mark has been passed in the current campaign to add $5,000 to the Endowment Fund of the Warren County Probation Association according to a report made at this week's meeting of the Warren Rotary Club.

Reporting as chairman of the youth committee at the Rotary Club, Judge Alexander C. Flick, Jr., told the members that the total donated to date was $2,750.62. This is the sixth annual campaign put on by members of the Warren Rotary Club since the Probation Association was sponsored by the club and received its charter as a non-profit corporation in 1954. Five previous campaigns have exceeded the goal each year and there is now $27,000 in the Permanent Fund.

The Rotarians were reminded that the Permanent Endowment Fund of the Warren County Probation Association is held and kept invested by The Warren Foundation. Twice a year the income earned by this Fund is returned to the Probation Association. The income is then paid over to the Warren County Commissioners to help pay for the expense of the County probation system for juveniles.

The report also informed the Rotarians that the present balance of $2,750.62, donated since January 1, 1960, consists of individual gifts by a hundred and seventy persons and organizations in the County, including twenty-one of the Parent-Teacher Associations.

Twenty-two members of the Rotary Club have reported in full as to their solicitations. Twenty-nine have made a partial report and nineteen have made no report to date. Rotarians were requested to see the prospective donor assigned to them as soon as possible.

Judge Flick also reported that the total donated to the Fund by Penny Friends since the first of the year is $34.11. This penny project started as a joke because some Rotarians saw to it that there was always an odd amount in pennies to report for the fund. Soon a plate was provided for pennies and small change gifts, and in the year 1959 the total given in this manner amounted to $50.36. Judge Flick told the Rotarians that this was certainly the kind of a joke he appreciated.

The members were also reminded that none of the moneys donated to the Probation Association are spent. They are all put in the Permanent Endowment Fund held by The Warren Foundation. The long term goal of this Fund is to build it up to a size sufficient to be able to help the county authorities establish a County Home where juveniles can be sent in lieu of training schools.

Playground Report

The Warren borough playgrounds' annual fish derby was held Wednesday with forty-five boys and girls participating, but according to reports, the fish were a bit lifeless and failed to respond to the tempting bait dropped into the waters of the Conewango creek near the dam. John Rhoades of Memorial playground and Steve Taraska from Mulberry tied for the largest number of fish beached, eight, but this was far below last year's winning total of 32.

The Rhoades lad also snared the biggest fish, a fourteen-inch sucker, and had the greatest variety of catches. The prize for the largest bluegill was won by Taraska.

Bill Holt and Bill Bower, of the Beaty playground, tied for the smallest catch, both landing 3-1/2 inch species. The following youngsters all tied for the largest bass netted: Steve Elmquist, Bruce King, Dave Carlson, Brad King, Jim Hunter, Tom Raleigh, Keith Dunham, Alec Bower, and Rocky Logan.

Group Activities

THE YOUNG DEMOCRATS OF WARREN COUNTY . . . announce that all persons between the ages of 18 to 35 are eligible for membership in their organization. Especially wanted at this time are young people who want to take active parts in the group. Those interested please call Raymond Simonsen, RA3-5489, or Mark Bevevino, RA3-8927.

The second meeting of the Young Democrats took place last Monday evening at 8:00 at the Y.M.C.A. At that time election of officers was planned for the near future.

RESERVATIONS ARE . . . still being accepted for the Bavarian Buffet-style dinner at the Conewango Valley Country Club tomorrow night at 6:30. American as well as Bavarian dishes will be served to please the preferences of all. Throughout the evening, music will be played by the "Bavarian Trio" of Buffalo.

For reservations call Mr. Blakely at the Conewango Valley Country Club, RA3-6480.

CONDUCTOR of the Tommy Dorsey Orchestra will be Warren Covington when it appears in Warren Tuesday, August 16, for a mid-summer ball.

Sponsored by the Warren County Chapter Demolay, the dance will be held in the new Knights of Columbus air-conditioned ball room from 9 to 1 o'clock. The dance is open to the public and dress is optional.

Tickets, at $2.00 per person, are available at the B & B Smoke Shop, Wendelboe's, or from any Demolay member. It is emphasized that there are only a limited number of tickets and when these are sold there will be no more available.

General chairman of the dance is Jake Shulman, with Jerry Wilson as ticket chairman.

WOMEN'S ACTIVITIES

THE V.F.W. AUXILIARY . . . will have their regular meeting on Thursday evening, August 11, in the V.F.W. Club rooms at 8 o'clock. During this meeting the ceremony of Draping the Charter for deceased members will take place. Auxiliary President, Mrs. Bennett, requests that all Color Bearers be present for the occasion.

There will be a social hour with which the evening will be concluded.

***

CHIEF CORNPLANTER UNIT 135 . . . American Legion Auxiliary, will have a tureen dinner at 6:30 p.m. Tuesday, August 9, in the Legion Home. Following dinner the regular business meeting will take place at 8 o'clock, at which time delegates to the State Convention in Philadelphia will give their reports.

All junior members are especially invited to attend the dinner-meeting.

***

MARINE CORPS LEAGUE AUXILIARY MEMBERS. . . are once again reminded to bring buns and hamburgers, or wieners, for the wiener roast on Tuesday night, 8 o'clock. Everything else is being taken care of by the committee composed of Bonnie and Kay Strandburg.

How to make $18<sup>75</sup> a week grow into $10,000

$10,000 is a small fortune. But it can be yours if you buy a $25 U.S. Savings Bond every week.

After 7 years, 9 months you'll have Bonds worth $10,000 at maturity—and they will have cost you only $7,500.

The U.S. Government and your employer will help you. Just sign up with the Payroll Savings Plan at work. This way you can't forget to save.

By saving only 63¢ a day, you can own Bonds worth $1,000 at maturity in just 40 months. Why not start now?

More advantages of U.S. Savings Bonds

You now get 3 3/4% interest, at maturity. This new rate went into effect June 1, 1959. Series E Bonds now mature 14 months earlier—in just 7 years, 9 months. Your old Bonds are improved, too—earn an extra

1/2% from June 1, 1959.

You can get your money, with interest, anytime you want it. But it pays to keep your Bonds.

Your money is guaranteed safe by the U.S. Government. The cash value of your Bond will not drop—it can only grow.

Your money can't be lost or stolen. The Treasury will replace your Bonds, free, if anything happens to them. You save more than money. You help save the peace with every Bond you buy.

Here's how you can reach your savings goal with U.S. Savings Bonds in just 7 years, 9 months.

If you want about each week save	$2,500	$5,000	$10,000
	$5.45	$10.85	$21.70

POLITICAL DUEL FOR TV

Both Senator John F. Kennedy and Vice President Richard Nixon have accepted the invitation extended by NBC to appear in a series of televised debates during the election campaign this fall. Mr. Nixon suggested that the debates should be completely without notes, with no text of any kind, so the candidates can cover a whole range of subjects.

Enabling legislation, already adopted by the Senate, is expected to be passed by the House during the August session. This legislation suspends a provision that would compel broadcasters to give equal time to a dozen or more minor and splinter party candidates, and includes only the presidential and vice-presidential candidates of the two major parties.

SENATE SESSION COULD MAKE GOOD TV FARE

Much is being said and written in the critics' circle just now concerning the August Senate session, and the possibility of having the sessions televised. There is a broadcasting ban on coverage of proceedings of the upper house which could be suspended in view of the importance and historical significance of the issues to come before the Senate in these weeks preceding the presidential election.

Proponents of the idea point out the vast viewing audience which tuned into the political conventions televised from Los Angeles and Chicago and the fact that the public would be in a better position to decide issues and candidates if they had a ringside seat via their TV sets when the Senate goes into action. They discount the argument against such an arrangement on the grounds that television has become a major journalistic force and should be permitted coverage equally with the press. The objection that cameras would detract from the serious nature of the proceedings and turn them into an entertainment is countered by the argument that television would have a disciplinary effect on grandstanders who would be eyed by their constituents at home. And those in favor of TV coverage remind that video has not been offensive nor intrusive when covering the Presidential State of the Union messages to Congress.

TV TUBE TROUBLES? FIX THEM YOURSELF!

The August issue of Popular Science, p. 141, begins a series of articles for the household handyman (or woman) titled "How To Fix Your Own TV." The article states that most television set troubles stem from faulty tubes and can be remedied by the simple procedure of locating the troublemaker and replacing it. Nearly 90% of service calls involve replacement of tubes.

Each month the Pop. Sci. series will treat a different angle of the subject, the first article dealing with how to pinpoint vertical tube difficulties. Excuse us, please, while we dash out for our copy so that we can cancel that call to the serviceman.

PROMISE OF THE REAL WEST

GARY COOPER will act as narrator and storyteller for NBC's full-hour documentary on an authentic treatment of the period in American history, 1849-1900, which saw the frontiers pushed westward. Title of the documentary is "The Real West."

Cooper will actually tell the story? Yup! Soon? Nope! Early 1961. An interesting angle, outside that of the laconic Cooper doing the narration, is the sympathetic treatment given the American Indian.

FOR ADULTS, TOO

CBS has announced that its new series to be based on children's classics has been changed in format and retitled "All Family Classics."

Included in the adult treatment will be "The Three Musketeers," "The Man In the Iron Mask," "Vanity Fair," and "The Scarlet Pimpernel." The series premieres Oct. 24, at 7:30-8:30 p. m. Each book is given a two hour program, with one hour-long program on successive nights.

SWITCH-THIE-DIAL NIGHT

BING CROSBY and FRED ASTAIRE will vie for your attention on the evening of Oct. 5, from 10 to 11 o'clock. Crosby is appearing on that date in a special show for ABC and Mr. Astaire will be doing an NBC special.

Scene From New Ch. 4 Feature Film

Maria Schell portrays a dedicated German nurse and Carl Mohner plays her lover in "The Last Voyage," to be seen in this area for the first time on WBEN-TV's Eleven-Thirty Theater Wednesday night, Aug. 10, at 11:30. This is one of a new film package recently acquired by Ch. 4 station.

BOWLING - Bowling Stars series at 1 p. m. on WKBW features a ladies' match, Marge Merrick vs. Marion Turash.

FRIDAY

FOOTBALL - College All-Star Football will be televised by the ABC network at 10 p. m. to approximately 12:45. WKBW and WICU will carry the game. College grid stars and the world champion Baltimore Colts at Chicago's Soldier Field. Half-time entertainment "Vacationland, U.S.A." features the Mississippi Southern College marching band and the school's Dixie Darlings, a 50-girl baton drill and dance group.

SPORTS SPECIAL

PRO FOOTBALL will be seen on WJAC this fall for the first time in almost six years. The Johnstown station has scheduled nine games, including eight pitting the Pittsburgh Steelers against such opponents as Baltimore Colts, Cleveland Browns, Philadelphia Eagles and a newcomer this year, the Dallas Cowboys. The schedule begins Friday, Sept. 2, at 9:15 p. m. with an exhibition game between the Steelers and the Colts.

U. S. LAWN TENNIS Association Championships will be televised Sunday, Sept. 11, 5-6:30 p. m. via WJAC. This will consist of men's and women's singles as well as mixed-doubles championships. This exciting sports event will originate from the world famous West Side Tennis Club at Forest Hills, L. I., New York.

WORLD SERIES this year will again be sponsored by Gillette Safety Razor Company and General Motors. This year's Series will open in the National League city; games 3, 4 and 5, will be played in the American League city; with games 6 and 7, if necessary, reverting to the National League city. All contests, with the exception of the Sunday game, are scheduled to start at 1 p. m. in the city played with telecast pickup starting 15 minutes prior to game time. The pre-World Series programs will be sponsored by General Mills and American Tobacco.

Alas! No Caviar

By Robert C. Ruark

Oh, everybody's got his troubles these days, and I am pleased to learn, from a recently returned friend, that the Russians are standing sorely in need of comfort.

"You can't get a decent spoonful of top-grade caviar in Russia today," says my informant, a caviar-hound who just spent a month trying to surfeit his capitalistic craving for greasy gray sturgeon eggs in the major cities of Russia. "Only as a guest of the Kremlin can you get that wonderful stuff. What you can buy is dry and little and black, just like the cheap gunk you buy in the states--little black birdshot."

Obviously crestfallen, our chum says that most of the good caviar that is not scoffed by the Kremlin elite goes into the export trade. While you can buy a tin of Romanoff in the posher restaurants in Paris, London, New York and the other capitals--if you have the price of a small car in your wallet--even the richer Moscovite can't dig into a half-pound tin with a peasant greediness in Russia.

Apart from export inroads, it seems the Caspian Sea is having troubles of its own, and the Caspian produces four-fifths of the world's sturgeon. It is axiomatic that you cannot have caviar without sturgeon, and the old Caspian is getting shallower and shallower, until the sturgeon are almost scraping off the roe.

There has recently been a large conference of hydroelectric engineers trying to solve several problems such as evaporation. The Caspian is losing four hundred million gallons a year by evaporation alone.

But worse than evaporation is the recent construction of huge hydroelectric stations, which rob the Caspian of water by accumulating huge pools or reservoirs which the locals use for irrigation and power. These stations are located on the Volga and other rivers which used to contribute to the static water supply in the Caspian. Now, the poor old sea just gets dribbles from what used to be gushers.

Nor is that all. It turns out that the Caspian is lousy with minerals. The old Baku oilfields have spread offshore until the Caspian is about half flooded with grease. Other competitive minerals, such as sodium and magnesium, in abundance have been discovered, and the poor old sturgron is sore tried to find a place to lay a weary egg. I suppose old Hawgjowl blames all this on Eisenhower, but it does seem a pity that the only thing the Russians ever produced perfectly seems eventually doomed to make way for progress.

Of course, the Russians being talented as they are, they will undoubtedly come up with a formula to produce an ersatz fish-egg, which, at machine-gun point, they will insist is better than the old natural adjunct to soft lights and champagne. At least they will tell the world it is better because Krushchev says

Television and Radio . . .

TV — THE ACCIDENTAL EDUCATOR

By Betty Comden and Adolph Green

(John Crosby is on vacation. During his absence his column will be conducted by guest writers.)

The other day we were present when a five-year-old boy of our acquaintance whose normal look of primitive impudence would not cause one to endow him with any extraordinary occult or psychic powers looked up from his almost-toy-Cape Canaveral launching pad on the living room floor and, brandishing a small rocket like a cigar, addressed the air in general with a guttural rasp, "Ladies and gentlemen of the RADD-ee-oh audience . . ."

They were, of course, the familiar words and tone of the late Gov. Alfred E. Smith, familiar to us, that is, who had already begun to emerge from our Erector set period in the years between '28 and '32, and totally forgotten by several new generations since. Hence it is small wonder that we stared at each other with wild surmise as these words issued, dybbuk-wise, from this contemporary urchin.

It transpired that he had gotten his remarkable impersonation from a cartoon he had seen on TV the other day. The cartoon in question turned out to be a Terrytoon made around 1930, featuring barnyard animals impersonating celebrities of the day. In addition to Al Smith, this lad had also learned, from similar cartoons, a devastatingly accurate take-off of Rudy Vallee, St. Bernard eyebrows and all, singing "My Time Is Your Time" in his 1929 megaphonic style and a very fine Greta Garbo with turned down mouth, hoarsely whispering "Ay want to be alone."

By now, fascinated, we investigated into the knowledge of several other kiddies in the five to eight year age bracket and discovered them all to be highly conversant with personalities and phrases that had, more or less, passed out of the American consciousness several decades ago--Joe Penner's "Wanna buy a duck?"; Jack Pearl's "Vass you dere, Sharlie?"; Mae West's "C'mup 'n see me sometime" (this last one acquired from mid-30's cartoons featuring take-offs of this immortal female, in the person of grotesquely-bosomed hens).

Several of them could impersonate John Barrymore reciting "To be or not to be" in a manner uncomfortably suggestive of that wonderful actor's last tragic years, while others preferred knitting up their brows more like brother Lionel and grinding out his famous "Gentlemen of the jury" speech from "A Free Soul" with hands nervously plowing through hair and over face. They were also familiar with W. C. Fields, the 1930's James Cagney, all periods of Humphrey Bogart and Shirley Temple and the aristocratic American intonations of FDR and the young Katie Hepburn.

At this point we arrived at a new realization. TV is, of course, a provider of eyewitness contact with the contemporary scene unparalleled in history. It is also an endless conveyor belt of entertainment of every kind and the little screen is constantly filled with an almost insane succession of images to keep that screen alive for us. Towards that end an amazing variety of filmed material dating as far back as the late 20's appears before us daily.

To us so-called adults, they generally evoke feelings ranging from tearful sentiment to disgust and indifference. And yet this video hash provides the medium with an important function as an accidental historian of America's recent past--a sort of marvelous garbage pail of voices and images. In the eyes of our five to eight year old kiddies, these thirty-odd years of images are digested as new experience, all contemporary. Joe Penner is as current to them as Mort Sahl, Rudy Vallee as Elvis Presley. The young Clark Gable with the cynical smile and the Dumbo ears has more immediacy than the elegant gent of the same name who saunters slowly across the endless screen in the air-cooled cathedral.

TV may thus be serving them in this accidental way with a kind of associative enrichment for their minds unlike anything we elders have ever known. We believe that James Joyce, genius of the associative mind, would feel delighted with the TV medium as the essential educational key for his future readers, and grin approvingly as he heard some five year old kiddie bleat, "Gentleman of the jury, ay want to be alone on the radd-ee-oh 'cause Winston's taste good like a cigarette should, but c'mup 'n see me sometime because my time is your time and you can be sure if it's Westinghouse, on the good ship Lollypop, you dirty rat, hotchachachal!"

han. He has a sensational new pitcher. The Giants had won five straight as they opened an eastern road trip here Tuesday. And, in Sheehan's own words, "Willie is playing as well as he ever played in his life."

There are a lot of Willies on the San Francisco club -- Kirkland, McCovey, O'Dell, and Loes, to name a few. But, in this connection, Willie could mean only one man -- the marvellous Mays, ball player extraordinary from Outer Space, Ala. Mr. Sheehan, otherwise known as "Long Tom" or "Old Owl Eyes," looks well and healthy after six weeks on a new and exacting job. "Why shouldn't I?" he asks challengingly. "You know me and you know that managing ain't going to bother me. I'll eat and I'll sleep."

He will too. At sixty-six, he is an authentically tough and hardy man with the rugged constitution and cast-iron digestive apparatus of a Casey Stengel or a Charley Dressen, who happen to be among his oldest and closest friends.

In this respect, Sheehan is at the opposite end of the pole from his predecessor. Bill Rigney, an intense man filled with quick nervous mannerisms, always appeared headed for a nervous breakdown next week.

What about Juan Marichal, the pitcher who came out of nowhere to win his first three starts for the Giants? What has he got?

"What do you want?" retorted Sheehan. "You name it and he's got it. He's an amazing kid. He's got a good fast ball, a good curve, and a good change-up. And he can throw all three of them over the plate."

Marichal pitched a one-hit shut-out against the Phillies in his debut. Four days later, he beat the league-leading Pirates, 3 to 1. In his third start, the Milwaukee Braves forced him to ten innings before he won, 3 to 2. "He beat Warren Spahn," added Sheehan proudly.

"He's a mystery to me," said Sheehan. "Here's a twenty-one-year-old kid who comes from some town in the interior of the Dominican Republic nobody ever heard of. Nobody ever taught him anything and yet he pitches with as much savvy as anyone you ever saw. I've got to believe he was born with pitching instinct."

 A SHOT IN THE ARM

It was duly noted that Marichal allowed no runs in his first game, one in his second, and two in his third. At this rate of mathematical progression, the Phillies were due to get three runs off him last night.

"Never mind the jokes," grumbled Sheehan. "Just remember that the scout who recommended him -- a fellow by the name of Ignacio Martinez -- did us a big favor. We put him in Michigan City in Class D in '59 and Springfield in Class A last year. And when we brought him up from Tacoma last month, all of a sudden, he was ready."

"He gave us a shot in the arm when we needed it most and now our whole pitching picture looks better. Sam Jones was awfully mixed up for a long while and now seems to be straightened out. Jack Sanford has pitched six shutouts. Mike McCormick is coming back and Johnny Antonelli has turned in some fine relief work.

"I wish we could do something about Billy O'Dell. He's our hard luck guy. We never seem to get him any runs."

***

DODGERS TEAM TO BEAT

"Away from that San Francisco wind for the next three weeks," said Sheehan, "I'm hoping some of our men -- like Orlando Cepeda and Willie Kirkland -- will do some real hitting again. There's no law against giving Willie -- meaning Mays -- a little help."

But Sheehan conceded that the road ahead will be rough.

"Right now," he said, "I've got to believe that Los Angeles is the club to beat. They have the pitching depth and the reserves. Walt Alston has a righthanded club he can use and a lefthanded club too."

"I think it's remarkable the way the Pittsburgh club has hung in there. That shortstop, Dick Groat, holds the Pirates together. But after you get past Bob Friend and Vernon Law and their big relief pitcher, Elroy Face, they haven't pitching depth and I think they eventually will drop back."

"Milwaukee? Well, the Braves might do it, but Dressen's pitchers aren't as good as they used to be and, this year, he hasn't been getting the hitting he counted on from Eddie Mathews and Hank Aaron."

Four Teams Vying For County Bantam Crown

Lander Auxiliary of the western division of the Upper Allegheny Hot Stove League's bantam loop and Weiser Ford of the eastern division will be two of the three teams competing for the circuit's title in the playoff games which are slated to commence Monday evening. The American division entry will be decided this evening at Wilder field when the Youngsville Cabinet Shop, coached by Jack Hoy, and Jack Wood's Youngsville National Bank nine meet. The two clubs ended regular play with identical records of seven wins and one setback.

Lander and Weiser Ford will meet Monday evening at the Youngsville athletic field, and the winner will meet the victor of tonight's American loop scrap for the league championship. Howard Thompson is the former team's handler, and Dick Johnston manages the Sheffield team.

The Youngsville Kiwanis entry of the intermediate league is undisputed 1960 champ. The Kiwanis finished the campaign with ten wins and three losses under manager Ed Mulvey. On Benefit Day, Aug. 13, they will face an All-Star combine from the four other teams in the loop.

County Hot Stove League president Bob Lind wishes to remind all persons planning to attend the next meeting of the organization, which will be held Thursday, Aug. 11, at 7:30 p. m. at the YMCA, that he would like a full report of ticket sales for Benefit Day.

Further details on the Day's festivities will be published next week.

The Syracuse event was a Welsh Pony and Morgan Horse Show. Dyberry Neckomia, a registered Morgan mare in the four-year and over class, and Neckomia's Archie N, in the one year Stallion class, were the winners.

The horses are owned and reared by Clyde N. Norris of Bemus Point, N.Y., who owns optical offices in Warren and Jamestown.

This was the first show the Colt has been entered in. He had only trained for two weeks under Buddy Johnson of Moon Brook Stables, a well-known trainer of Morgan, and three and five gaited horses.

YOUR FOREST RANGER

By Larry Stotz

THE ACRE YOU OWN

The 181 million acres of national forest land in the United States and Alaska closely approximate in number the present population of the 50 states. You as a stockholder in this great forest enterprise own a single share - a share that today is equivalent to an acre of land. No one can own more than one share, and no one can sell the one he has.

As an active shareholder, you should be vitally interested in keeping these national forest acres productive. Like a well run household, they serve many purposes. Where conflict between uses arises it is settled -- as in a smoothly run home -- on the principle of the greatest good of the greatest number. This is called multiple-use management on the National Forests.

As a shareholder, you probably have positive ideas as to how the National Forests should be used. But stop a minute and take a real look at your own Allegheny National Forest. Examine it closely, and see what a complex thing this public forest really is. You should rightfully expect to get from it usable water, timber products, wholesome outdoor recreation and legal fish and game.

If you were the custodian of a National Forest and wanted to balance all of the major uses so that you could hand the forest down unimpaired to future generations, you would have to make some important management decisions and stick to them. That is exactly what the administration of the 151 national forests involves today -- the making of sound, long-term decisions for the management of all the acres of the 178,000,000 shareholders.

Because the Forest Service believes so strongly that the National Forests are for the use of ALL people and ALL interests, the multiple-use principle has been applied in managing them. The theory of multiple-use is simple. You unconsciously practice it when you quietly settle differences between members of your family in the use of the backyard, the family car, or the TV set in the living room. However, making multiple use work on the vast acreages of the Allegheny National Forest, and satisfying its thousands of active shareholders, is both difficult and complex.

As a stockholder, you have a voice in management decisions just as you do if you own shares of stock in a big corporation. Congress is your board of directors for the National Forests, and the majority wishes of the stockholders are carried out on the ground by professional land managers -- the district rangers. So you can't expect always to have your own way in the use you would like to make of a particular area.

While each National Forest is managed under the multiple-use principle, not every single acre is devoted to multi-purpose use. Some areas may be dedicated to only one or two major ones.

For example, inside a wilderness area you will find that no logging is permitted. This area will, however, produce water, wildlife forage, and a wilderness type of recreation. No roads will be permitted to be built through it, nor can you expect to find a fireplace and a table for a family picnic. You may, however, hunt and fish there and may see livestock grazing.

Use of the land within a summer home area will be even further restricted. This land will yield its share of usable water. Wildlife may venture on it, but hunting near the cabins is not permitted. Timber within the area, and in a buffer strip around it, may not be harvested and recreation is specialized and may be limited to those who hold special use permits for summer homes.

But if you pick at random a large enough area on the Allegheny National Forest the chances are excellent that it will fall within a group that is being managed for most of the five major products of the national forests -- wood, water, wildlife, forage and recreation. There, under multiple-use management, timber is being harvested for a thousand uses, clear water is journeying to a municipal reservoir, wildlife is being cropped under enlightened game laws, and visitors to the forest are enjoying wholesome outdoor recreation.

Here, through multiple-use management, all of the resources of the Allegheny National Forest are being managed for the greatest good of the greatest number in the long run.

BETTS AND SODA CLASH TOMORROW EVENING

Warren's entry in the finals of the BOW championship series will be decided this week end, weather permitting, when the Betts Black Knights and Soda Mineral tangle on the West Side diamond. The second game of the best-of-three preliminary series will be staged at 6 p.m. Saturday evening, and if a third game is needed, it will be played Sunday at 2 p.m.

The Warren winner will then face Olean Bluebird Bus in a best-of-five series for the loop crown. The Bluebirds, on their superb pitching strength, dropped Olean Icky's Cookies twice last Sunday by 5 to 2 and 9 to 1 scores to gain a play-off berth.

Soda Mineral holds a one-game edge over the Black Knights of Ange Regina as they defeated their hometown adversaries, 1 to 0, in the initial game of the Shaughnessey playoffs last Saturday. More of the same type of ball can be expected for the second game and also the third game, if it is played.

Betts will more than likely go with their mound ace, Ken Sorensen, Saturday evening and will return with young Johnny Berdine on Sunday should they win the previous evening. S-M pilot, Tony Bonavita, has yet to announce his starting pitcher, but it will be either windmillers Bud Speicher or Bob Schmader.

Both nines will be at full strength for the big game, and a large crowd is anticipated by the local officials.

POINT LEADERS FIGURED AS FEATURE CONTENDERS

Hyle Russell of Kane and Brockway's Squirt Johns, currently standing in the one and two positions in the point race at Stateline Speedway this summer, appear to be top contenders in the 25-lap feature slated for the Sugar Grove oval tomorrow (Saturday) evening. Johns, who won nine feature events in the '59 campaign, has yet to catch a checkered flag this season despite several high finishes, and many believe he will be out to shake the "hex" Saturday.

The feature event will be presented after six other races which are scheduled to begin at 8:30 p.m.

The track officials announce that rain checks from last weekend's washed-out card will be honored upon presentation at the box office tomorrow evening.

HORSE SHOW LINEUP

Rootin', tootin' western rodeo fans from this area will get an authentic taste of their favorite pastime Sunday, Aug. 14, when the Y-Bar-USaddle Club, Inc. of Warren presents a Western Horse Show at 1 p.m. at the club's grounds on the Warren-Scandia road. C. A. (Gus) Burgett will judge the show, according to the rules of the PONY Association, and Charlie Carlson will be on hand to emcee the affair.

Ribbons and trophies will be presented to the winners. Entry fee for the events is one dollar per class. Special feature of the show will be the selection of a Queen to represent this area in the gala show to be held in Harrisburg later this month.

The schedule of events reads as follows: Western Equitation for children under twelve; Senior Western pleasure; the Western Pony attraction for animals from 48-56 inches; the Keyhole Race; the Western Equitation for children ages 12 through 16; the Western Trail Horse event; and the Clover Leaf Race.

After an intermission the following events will take place: the Western Pony event for horses under 48 inches; the always exciting Calf Roping contest for which the entry fee will be five dollars; the Junior Western Pleasure; the Open Stock Horses; the Musical Bags for those persons 12 years and over; the Pole Bending and Open Reining contests; the Pick-Up Race for persons 16 years and over; and the thrill-packed Western Jumping event.

BLACK KNIGHTS CLOSE TO FIRST PLACE FINISH

The Betts Black Knights are virtual shoo-ins for first place in the City Softball league as the "mush-ball" season is rapidly drawing to a close. The charges of Ange Regina are currently leading second place Soda Mineral by three full games, and each of these nines has three contests remaining in regular play. Soda's Monday night loss to the 400 Block, coupled with the Betts' victories over the West Side Merchants on that evening and a 16 to 2 slaughter of the East Side Merchants Tuesday, all but eliminate the distributors chances of sliding into a tie with the Knights.

A Shaughnessey playoff, which is slated to commence Monday, Aug. 15, and which will include Betts, Soda, the 400 Block, and the West Side Merchants who will probably finish in the top four spots in that order, will decide that championship of the 1960 season.

Betts exploded for five runs in the opening frame off started Bob Larson of the East Siders in Tuesday night's tilt and went on to add eleven more runs in the ensuing innings to grab the decisive verdict. Ned Bartholomew, a veteran of many seasons in softball activity, led Betts at the plate with three hits in four times at bat, good for five tallies by him.

Extra base blows for the winners went to "Big" Bill Massa, a double, and Syd Cummings, a long three-run circuit clout in the third frame.

In this coming Monday night's action the 400 Block visits Betts on the West Side diamond, and the two Merchant entries will tangle on the State Hospital field. Tuesday Soda and the West Siders will make up a rained-out game at the West Side park, and Wednesday the league will close out regular play when Betts and Soda scrap. All games will start promptly at 6:15.

PROPOSED AMENDMENTS TO THE CONSTITUTION APPROVED FOR THE FIRST TIME BY THE SESSION OF 1959 OF THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF THE COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA AND PUBLISHED BY THE ORDER OF THE SECRETARY OF THE COMMONWEALTH IN PURSUANCE OF ARTICLE XVIII OF THE CONSTITUTION.

SESSION OF 1959

No. 4 A JOINT RESOLUTION

Proposing an amendment to article nine, section one of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania to exempt certain blind, paraplegic and double or quadruple amputee veterans from the payment of certain real and property taxes.

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby resolves as follows:

Section 1. The following amendment to the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania is hereby proposed in accordance with the provisions of the eighteenth article thereof:

That section one, article nine of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania be amended to read:

Section 1. All taxes shall be uniform, upon the same class of subjects, within the territorial limits of the authority levying the tax, and shall be levied and collected under general laws; but the General Assembly may, by general laws, exempt from taxation public property used for public purposes, actual places of religious worship, places of burial not used or held for private or corporate profit, institutions of purely public charity and real and personal property owned, occupied, and used by any branch, post, or camp of honorably discharged soldiers, sailors, and marines; and the General Assembly may, by general laws, set up standards and qualifications for private forest reserves, and make special provision for the taxation thereof. Citizens and residents of this Commonwealth, who served in any war or armed conflict in which the United States was engaged and were honorably discharged or released under honorable circumstances from active service, shall be exempt from the payment of all real property taxes upon the residence occupied by the said citizens and residents of this Commonwealth imposed by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania or any of its political subdivisions if, as a result of military service, they are blind, paraplegic or double or quadruple amputees, and if the State Veterans' Commission determines that such persons are in need of the tax exemptions granted herein. No. 8 A JOINT RESOLUTION

Proposing an amendment to article four, section twenty-one of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, changing the time at which the Secretary of Internal Affairs takes office.

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby resolves as follows:

Section 1. The following amendment to the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania is proposed in accordance with the provisions of the eighteenth article thereof:

That section twenty-one, article four of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania be amended to read:

Section 21. The terms of the Secretary of Internal Affairs, the Auditor General, and the State Treasurer, shall each be four years. The term of the Secretary of Internal Affairs shall be from the third Tuesday of January next following his election. They shall be chosen by the qualified electors of the State at general elections. No person elected to the office of Auditor General or State Treasurer shall be capable of holding the same office for two consecutive terms.

Schedule That no inconvenience may arise from the change in the Constitution of the Commonwealth and in order to carry it into complete operation it is declared that:

The Secretary of Internal Affairs who may be in office when this amendment is adopted shall serve until the end of the term for which elected. The term of the Secretary of Internal Affairs first elected after this amendment is adopted, or who is elected at the same election at which this amendment is adopted, shall begin at the end of the term of the Secretary of Internal Affairs then in office.

No. 10 A JOINT RESOLUTION

Proposing an amendment to article nine, section eight of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, increasing the borrowing capacity of school districts in order to reduce costs involved in financing through municipal authorities.

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby resolves as follows:

Section 1. The following amendment to the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania is proposed in accordance with the provisions of the eighteenth article thereof:

That section eight, article nine of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania be amended to read:

Section 8. The debt of any county, city, borough, township, school district, or other municipality or incorporated district, except as provided herein, and in section fifteen of this article, shall never exceed seven (7) per centum, except school districts which shall never exceed fourteen (14) per centum upon the assessed value of the taxable property therein, nor shall any such county, municipality or district incur any debt, or increase its indebtedness to an amount exceeding two (2) per centum, except school districts which shall not exceed five (5) per centum, upon such assessed valuation of property, without the consent of the electors thereof at a public election in such manner as shall be provided by law. The debt of the city of Philadelphia may be increased in such amount that the total debt of said city shall not exceed thirteen and one-half (13½) per centum of the average of the annual assessed valuation of the taxable realty therein, during the ten years immediately preceding the year in which such increase is made, but said city shall not increase its indebtedness to an amount exceeding three (3) per centum upon such average assessed valuation of realty, without the consent of the electors thereof at a public election held in such manner as shall be provided by law. No debt shall be incurred by or on behalf of the county of Philadelphia.

In ascertaining the debt-incurring capacity of the city of Philadelphia at any time, there shall be deducted from the debt of said city so much of said debt as shall have been incurred, or is about to be incurred, and the proceeds thereof expended, or about to be expended, upon any public improvement, or in construction, purchase, or condemnation of any public utility, or part thereof, or facility thereof, if such public improvement or public utility, or part thereof, or facility thereof, whether separately, or in connection with any other public improvement or public utility, or part thereof, or facility thereof, may reasonably be expected to yield revenue in excess of operating expenses sufficient to pay the interest and sinking fund charges thereon. The method of determining such amount, so to be deducted, shall be as now prescribed, or which may hereafter be prescribed by the General Assembly.

In incurring indebtedness for any purpose the city of Philadelphia may issue its obligations maturing not later than fifty (50) years from the date thereof, with provision for a sinking fund to be in equal or graded annual or other periodical installments. Where any indebtedness shall be or shall have been incurred by said city of Philadelphia for the purpose of the construction or improvement of public works or utilities of any character, from which income or revenue is to be derived by said city, or for the reclamation of land to be used in the construction of wharves or docks owned or to be owned by said city, such obligations may be in an amount sufficient to provide for, and may include the amount of, the interest and sinking fund charges accruing and which may accrue thereon throughout the period of construction, and until the expiration of one year after the completion of the work for which said indebtedness shall have been incurred; and said city shall not be required to levy a tax to pay said interest and sinking fund charges as required by section ten of this article until the expiration of said period of one year after the completion of said work.

CHAMPIONSHIP MATCHES

Matches in the championship flight of the Conewango Valley Country Club championship are moving a-long in rapid fashion and four first-rounder contests already are on the board. Skip Morine, last year's champion, got by John Carter, despite a flurry of birdies by his opponent. Bob Yerg downed Bob Anstadt, Bill Rice edged Pete Juliano, and Tim Creal went an extra hole to get by Bob Blair's 73. This week end should see all first round matches completed. The second round must be fired by a week from Sunday evening.

MEN'S DAY

Skip Morine's 35 for his first nine Thursday not only topped John Carter but also won the low gross for the day in the first flight. Lloyd Cleveland had eight 5's to win the most of a kind event.

In the second flight Sheriff Dremann, Dr. Yerg, and Mr. Lucky Berdine had six 5's apiece, and at 42 were Harold Smith and Sam Rasmussen. In the third, Jack Blair had seven 5's and Dr. Giunta went twenty holes to confound all hep golfers by edging Sheriff Dremann and posted a 41 for low gross.

In the fourth, Bill Walker and Bob Voigt had four 4's and Carl Lundahl shot a 50. The fifth flight winners were Merle Rossell with a 48 and Jake Connelly and Hans Link with five 5's.

Next week the flag tournament which should have been played this week will be the special if Professional Wally Holmes or Plumber Dahler find some equipment.

SIMONSEN'S OPEN LEAD IN INDUSTRIAL LEAGUE

The Simonsen's Insurance team opened up its lead to 4-1/2 points over Carlson's Motors this week with a resounding 9-1/2 to 2-1/2 triumph over Cunningham's Restaurant. As a result of their loss to the leaders, the Cunningham combine was knocked into fifth place. Behind Simonsen's and Carlson's in the first five positions are Econowash with 44-1/2, Penn Glade Hotel with 42, and Cunningham's with 38.

Joey Brindis fired the week's low score, a 34, and Joe Scalise carded a 36. Bob Blair and Bill Simonsen, Jr. recorded 37's, and Louie Carlson, Paul Rosenquist, and Bob Johnson had 38's. Checking in with scores of 39 were Ward Anderson, Vince Toscano, Wilbur Finsh, and George Eberhardt.

Other scores for the week were: Econowash 10, Observer 0; Solar 8, Blueberry 4; Sylvania Two 9, Riverside Lanes 3; Erickson's 5-1/2, Sylvania One 2-1/2; New Yorkers 8, Struthers Wells 4; Loranger's 6, National Forge 4; Carlson's 10, Belz-Larson 2; and Penn Glade Hotel 7-1/2, Keystone Powerfuel 4-1/2.

THE LADIES

Joan Carter blistered the Conewango Valley Country Club course Wednesday with a fine 80, to lead the ladies' day scoring. Toss-out tournament winners in the four flights were Myrl Lawson with 63; Rose Juliano, 62; Sally Gannoe, 54; Mabel Lauffenberger, 56.

B. J. Fisher and Myrl Lawson tied for least putt honors with 26. In the low net event Joan Carter led the first division, followed by Myrl Lawson. Other division results:

Second division, Rose Juliano and Marie Hamilton; third division, Sally Gannoe and Sally Blair; Fourth division, Mabel Lauffenberger and Kay Frantz.

Next week the ladies will have

BATTLING TO THE WIRE, Pictured here is the Struthers Hose team of the city league intermediate division which is currently in the running for the circuit's honors. Last Sunday afternoon the Hosemen defeated top contender Lions Club, 16 to 15, and Tuesday evening roared back from a 6 to 1 deficit to down the Lions once more, 7 to 6.

Tassone, Joe Font, Ron Bonavita, Danny Suppa, Danny Greco, Jim Falvo, John Ponsoll, Sonny Gallagher, Bob Suppa, Bill Sheckler, and Manager "Casey" Muscaro.

Last evening the Muscaro forces completed a three-game sweepover the Lions Club as they defeated them once more by a 4 to 2 count. Struthers' record is now 9 and 2, while the Lions stand at 7 and 3.

Area Sports

MOTORCYCLE RACES SLATED BY LOCAL ORGANIZATION

Members of the recently formed Viking Motorcycle Club of Warren announce that the organization will hold an invitational Scrambles tournament this Sunday at 1 p. m. at the club's newly constructed track known as the Echo Hill Raceway. Echo Hill is located on Keller road off the Irvin Run road near the town of Irvine, just west of the intersection of Routes 6 and 62.

The opening of a new track will create a great challenge to the skilled drivers of this area, and already a large amount of interest has been generated in the event. Heading the group of local entries is Don Bailey, a rated expert by the American Motorcycle Association. The Vikings have been winning constantly on area tracks and are very enthused about the grand opening of their own track.

The track itself is four-tenths of a mile in length, and has numerous tight turns and a hilly terrain that should provide a true test for both machines and their operators. An excellent feature of the Echo Hill's oval is its complete visibility from the spectators' area.

Refreshments will be available at the affair.

Y-BAR-U WORK SESSION

The chairman of the building committee of the Y-Bar-U Saddle Club requests that all members turn out for an important work bee on Saturday afternoon at the club's grounds on the Warren-Scandia road. The purpose of the work bee will be to construct the calf pens for the Western Horse Show to be held Sunday, Aug. 14.

Those who plan to attend the work session are also asked to bring their own food for a picnic that will follow the bee.

a poker tournament with deuces and trays wild. There also will be a luncheon.

SODA ROMPS, 11 TO 4

The long ball hitting of Hugo McKelvy and Dick Koebley plus the active sticking of their teammates enabled Soda Mineral to chalk up an 11 to 4 victory over the East Side Merchants last evening. Bob Harrison went all the way on the mound for the victory, and Paul Viglo, who blanked S-M in the teams' last tussle, was charged with the loss.

McKelvy blasted two consecutive round-trippers and Koebley two successive three-baggers to pace the twelve-hit Soda attack. Dave Wilbur and Steve Lindquist had two hits apiece for the losers.

POLIO BENEFIT RESULTS

Before an estimated crowd of over 2000 persons at Municipal stadium in Jamestown last evening, four teams of Jimtown softball players competed in an exciting doubleheader, the proceeds of the event going to the polio fund in the county. In the first game Al Bielowski of Buffalo bested Soda Mineral's Bud Speicher, 1 to 0, in nine innings, and in the second contest Betts' Ken Sorensen registered a 3 to 0 victory with his team over Jamestown's Jim Adamczak.

Bielowski and Speicher each fanned twelve men, Adamczak wiffed sixteen, and Sorensen nine. All three visiting hurlers, Bielowski from Buffalo, and Speicher and Sorensen of Warren, refused to take any road expense money, but asked that it might be donated to the polio fund.

HIGH SCHOOL FOOTBALL EXAMINATION SCHEDULE

INTERMEDIATE SCORES

Before a good-sized crowd on Memorial field Tuesday evening, the Struthers Hose team took over the top spot of the intermediate division by virtue of a 7 to 6 win over the Lions Club. Both nines have dropped only two games this season, but the Hosemen have won eight and the Lions seven.

The Struthers aggregation was in complete charge of the game, leading 7 to 1 at the end of three and one-half innings. Then the Lions club came scrambling back with two runs in the fourth and three more in the last of the fifth, but John Ponsoll put out the rally to preserve the win for Jim Falvo.

Joe Tassone and Danny Suppa had doubles for the victors.

Are You Dissatisfied With Your 1960 Taxes?

Many complaints have been registered at the county court house since tax notices started to be received by area residents Monday. The Observer is publishing the adjacent lists of millage data from the various districts in the county to aid the public in better understanding where the increases or decreases are in the tax notices sent to you.

The Warren County Commissioners wish to explain that assessed valuation of property in the county was the same for 1959 and 1960, and that the only increase in millage from the county was a one mill raise in the county poor tax.

Most alterations in the tax rates have been levied by the district school boards, and those organizations should be contacted to explain the increases or the decreases. And for those who are really interested it is suggested that they attend council meetings, township supervisors meetings, and school board meetings to obtain full explanation of their district's tax structure.

Since the responsibility of the explanation of the taxes does not rest in the County's Tax Office, it would not be beneficial to place telephone calls there for that reason.

MARION E. PETTEGREW

Pettegrew Moving Offices To N. Y. C.

Marion E. Pettegrew, senior vice president of Sylvania Electric Products, Inc., a subsidiary of General Telephone & Electronics Corporation, today announced he will move his headquarters from Batavia to the Sylvania corporate offices in New York on August 10. He at one time was stationed in Warren.

Mr. Pettegrew has overall responsibility for the Sylvania Home Electronics Division in Batavia, the Parts Division in Warren, Pa., and the Chemical and Metallurgical Division in Towanda, Pa.

Until the appointment of Robert E. Kenoyer as vice president and general manager on May 1, Mr. Pettegrew was general manager of the Batavia division in addition to his other duties. He said the appointment of Mr. Kenoyer relieves him of direct operational responsibility for the Batavia division.

Mr. Pettegrew joined Sylvania in June, 1953 as general manufacturing manager of the Parts Division. He was elected a vice president in April 1956 after becoming general manager of the Parts and Chemical and Metallurgical Divisions. In May 1956, he was given the additional responsibility of the Home Electronics Division and became a Senior Vice President in January, 1958.

Mr. Pettegrew attended Ohio State University, where he studied mechanical and civil engineering for five years.

Mr. and Mrs. Pettegrew have one son, Robert, who has recently been discharged from the Air Force after service in the South Pacific area.
